WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

Decorate the Graves of Their Deceased Sovereigns—Rev. Elgin Makes Appropriate Address

The Woodmen of the World on last Sunday afternoon decorated the graves of Sovereigns W. T. Carliss and Thomas Morgan, as an honor to their memory and to express a brotherly reverence for their worth.

The Woodmen formed a line of march at the their Camp and headed by the Silver Cornet Band, of Marion, followed by a large number of Woodmen, marched to the cemetery, where a large crowd of people had assembled to witness the ceremonies. The Woodmen formed a "wedge" about the graves of Sovereigns Carliss and Morgan and when the Band and Sovereigns had assembled about the grave, Rev. Virgil Elgin, who had been asked by Rosewood Camp No. 22, of Marion, only a few minutes before the Woodmen started to the cemetery, to speak, generously responded with an able address, in which he explained the object of the services and the charitable, benevolent custom of the Woodmen in decorating the graves of their deceased sovereigns once each year. The address of Rev. Elgin was listened to with much pleasure by the large audience. After Rev. Elgin had finished his delightful and able talk upon the objects and lessons of Woodcraft and while the Band played a piece of sacred music, the sovereigns left their places in the "wedge" and placed their emblem of remembrance, flowers, upon the graves of Sovereigns Carliss and Morgan.

The Woodmen ceremonies were very beautiful and most appropriate. The Band furnished music on the way to and from the cemetery.

There was quite a crowd witnessed the decorating services of the Woodmen and each and every person expressed themselves as being proud of the fact Marion possessed a Band that could render such appropriate and delightful music for such an occasion and the people who were fortunate enough to attend the services at the grave, expressed their high appreciation of the fact that in Marion there was a band of fraternal brothers who did not forget their dead brothers but with suitable ceremonies visited their graves and with their emblems of remembrance, keep alive the teachings of their order.

Strawberries for Fourth of July.

Fresh home-grown strawberries were delivered by Will Adams, the champion berry grower of the county, to a few of his "high particular" friends for "Fourth of July" dinner today. This is the latest strawberries we have ever heard of in this section and is the result of a second growth crop which came on his vines on which the first crop had been killed by freeze, while in bloom.

The case is very unusual and is almost a freak of nature or else mother nature just wanted to favor Mr. Adams a little, for his extra exertions on strawberries. You know there is a saying that "God helps him who helps himself."

Arrived Home Safely.

C. S. Knight, President of the Marion Zinc Co., who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis on his left side a few weeks ago and who was also troubled with rheumatism, had so far recovered as to be able to return to his home in Ft. Wayne, Ind.

He left here Monday night on the 10:15 train going direct to Chicago where connection was had with the Pullman Vestibule Sleeper direct to Ft. Wayne, only one change being made and that in the depot at Chicago

Mr. Knight was accompanied by his son, W. C. Knight, of St. Louis, his daughter, Mrs. Peters, of Ft. Wayne, a trained nurse, from Evansville and his valet, Hilman Calvert, colored, of this city. The RECORD-PRESS hopes the change will be beneficial to Mr. Knight and when once under his own roof, where loving hands and hearts can minister to his every wish and necessity, he will rapidly recuperate and soon again be looking after his immense interests in this, Livingston and Caldwell counties.

Dr. A. J. Driskill received a long distance message from Ft. Wayne, Ind., Wednesday morning announcing the safe arrival at his home, of Mr. Knight and his party.

An Elegant Breakfast.

Covers were laid for fourteen guests at the residence of Mrs. S. M. Jenkins at breakfast on Friday morning of last week in compliment to Miss Muh, of Jackson, Miss.

At eleven o'clock the guests were ushered to the dining room where a charming color scheme of pink and green was carried out in decorations of smilax and sweet peas. The place cards were hand painted in handsome designs of pink carnations tied with green ribbon.

Just as the guests were seated the arrival of Miss Muh was announced. The lady who entered created quite an excitement and was a perfect astonishment to the assembled guests. Instead of a beautiful young lady as they had anticipated behold a large buxom lady entered with all the grace and dignity of a woman of rank. What a marvelous thrill of humor predated the happy circle when they were brought to recognize the fact that it was Mr. Jenkins masquerading as the absent guest.

The breakfast was elegantly served in six courses, as follows:

Peaches and cream, creamed shrimps, broiled chicken on toast, asparagus in timbales, peas, frozen cherry frappe, fruit salad, brouleau and cake.

The guests were: Mesdames O. M. James, J. W. Wilson, Chas. Moore, Levi Cook, Misses Blanche Haase, Fannie and Kitty Gray, Fannie Woods, Inez Price. The out-of-town guests were Mesdames Peters, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., J. L. Gray, of Princeton, Misses Merchant, of Brunswick, Mo., and Emmie Scott, of Frankfort.

Those who breakfasted declared it to be one of the most superb and charming social affairs of the season. The delightful menu, the unexpected surprise, and the cheerful associations will impress the page of memory with joy and delight.

A GUEST.

Marion Boys Defeated.

Last Friday afternoon the Fredonia and Wilson Steam Laundry teams crossed bats on the latter's diamond in this city. Up to and at the close of the fourth inning Marion boys had run in three scores and shut Fredonia out. During the fifth inning the Fredonia boys run in seven scores, this put our boys "up in the air" so they made only one more score. The score stood fifteen to seven in favor of Fredonia at the close.

This was the laundry boys second effort and they played good ball to have practiced so little. Quite a number of "rooters" accompanied the visiting team, perhaps that is why they did such good playing. However, our boys are ever backed with an enthusiastic crowd of spectators.

For Sale.

Five tons of baled clover and timothy hay. $10.00 per ton at my farm one mile west of Mattoon.

LOUISVILLE'S NEW MAYOR

Robert Worth Bingham Appointed Mayor of Louisville Last Week—Stockholder in Crittenden Co. Mines.

Governor Beckham last week appointed Robert Worth Bingham Mayor of Louisville to fill out the term of Paul C. Barth, who lost his office by a recent decision of the Court of Appeals. Mayor Bingham is well known to many of our people, having made frequent visits here to look after his mining interests. He came here first with Mr. R. D. Dresher and became interested in the Columbia Mining Co. Later he was elected a director in the Southern Lead and Zinc Co., being one of the promoters and largest stockholders in that company. Of him the "Louisville Evening Post" said the day after his appointment:

"Robert Worth Bingham is a North Carolinian by birth, his natal city being Asheville. He is in the prime of manhood, being thirty-six years of age. His early education was received in a military school at Asheville, of which his father is commandant. He later graduated with high honors from the University of North Carolina, and took a post-graduate course in the University of Virginia.

"Returning to his home, he became an instructor in his father's school, an institution that was founded by his great-grandfather in 1793. For four years he occupied the chair of Ancient Language.

"He married Miss Eleanor Miller, a daughter of Samuel A. Miller, of Louisville, in May 1896 and removing to this city matriculated in the Law Department of the University of Louisville, taking both courses in one year and graduating high in the class.

"Mr. Bingham entered the law office of J. T. O'Neal in 1879 and continued to practice in his chosen profession in that connection until 1900, when he founded a partnership with W. W. Davis, his present associate, under the firm name of Bingham & Davis.

"The vacancy in the office of County Attorney, caused by Samuel B. Kirby becoming Judge of the Chancery Court, Second Division, was filled by the appointment of Mr. Bingham. This was in January 1904. In the fall he was re-elected to fill out the remainder of the term and in 1905, was his own successor in the office.

"During the recent lid agitation, Mr. Bingham was chosen by the Governor to carry out his Sunday closing policy after the regular authorities had proven their inability to do so. His last act in his official capacity as County Attorney was the exposing of the alleged irregularities in the contracts for the Courthouse."

Circuit Court Adjourned.

Circuit court adjourned Tuesday afternoon, with the following cases disposed of:

Count's vs Lee Salyers, fined $20.
Same vs Charley Bennett, fined $50.
Same vs Charley Rice, dismissed.
Same vs Ben Capps, fined $20.
Same vs same, dismissed.
Same vs John Brantley, fined $5.
Same vs Frank Young and Cecil Baker, fined $5.
Same vs Joe Dollar, dismissed.
Same vs Ed Rutter, three years in penitentiary.

CHURCH NOTES.

The sermon at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning was on Rom. 11:34, "For who has known the mind of God?" The last four verses of this chapter are a brief comment that the apostle Paul makes on the exposition of the doctrines Christianity. He describes the mind of God as deep, unsearchable, unchangeable, and that all of God's works are for his glory.

The sermon at night was based on Math. 27:22, "What shall I do with Jesus which is called the Christ?"

The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. Preparatory services will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock, and Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The members of the church are urged to be present, and friends are cordially invited to attend these services.

Mr. G. H. Turpin, of Clarksville, Tenn., has charge of the Presbyterian church at Tolu. He will preach at Forest Grove two Sundays each month. Next Sunday he will preach at Forest Grove.

Mr. Hoffman, a theological student spent a few days with Mr. Turpin at Tolu and preached for him at Forest Grove last Sunday. Mr. Hoffman will spend his summer vacation at Owingsville, Ky.

Stone-Owen.

Cleveland Stone and Miss Hazel Owen, of this place, took their friends on surprise when they eloped to Shawneetown Saturday night and were married. They returned Sunday evening and have been receiving congratulations.

The groom is an intelligent and industrious young man has a position in the Journal office. He is a son of H. S. Stone, formerly of this place but now of Hopkinsville.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Frank Owen, one of our rural carriers. She is a pretty and industrious young lady and we see no reason why the happy pair should not have a prosperous voyage thru life. Their many friends, including the Journal, wishes as much for them—Dixon Journal.

Mr. Cleveland Stone and Miss Hazel Owen, of Dixon, eloped to Shawneetown, Ill., last Saturday evening, where they were joined in holy wedlock. They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Strother Russell. There were parental objection to the match on account of the tender years of the young lady. The groom is assistant foreman in the Dixon Journal and is a popular and worthy young man.—Providence Enterprise.

Mr. Stone is well and favorably known here, he was employed several months on The Crittenden Record. His many friends here congratulate him on the step he has taken and the young lady on winning a kind industrious husband.

Reception.

Thursday evening, June 27, at her home on College Street Mrs. R. F. Haynes, gave a reception in honor of her charming guests, the Misses Scott, of Frankfort. The hours of receiving were from eight to ten. Those who assisted the hostess were: Misses Scott, Messrs. C. W. Haynes, A. M. Shelby and W. O. Tucker.

The guests were greeted at the door and ushered in by Miss Frances Gray. Mesdames J. W. Wilson, S. M. Jenkins, J. H. Orme, W. O. Tucker; Misses Sallie Woods and Gwendoline Haynes furnished the music, which was very sweet, during the evening.

Miss Lillie Cook presided at the punch bowl and Misses Mary Coffield, Marion Clement and Gwendoline Haynes served the refreshments, which consisted of ices, ice cream and cake.

The house was beautifully decorated with sweet peas and the lawn illuminated with many Japanese lanterns.

From ten to twelve the guests enjoyed many pleasant games of eucore. Everyone was loathe to leave and all voted Mrs. Haynes a charming hostess.

LARGEST IN WORLD

Colorado Dam That Will Impound 5,000,000 Cubic Feet of Water.

Through the consolidation of several irrigation companies in Colorado, arrangements have been completed for the construction of the largest dam in the world at a point nine miles northwest of Denver. J. G. White & Co., of New York, who will build the dam, as well as auxiliary works, state that it will have a length of nearly a mile and a quarter, a height of 150 feet and will contain 10,000,000 cubic yards of material.

The colossal size of this latest creation of engineering skill will be realized when it is compared with the new Croton dam in New York City water supply system, which contains less than 1,000,000 cubic yards, and with the great Roosevelt irrigation dam in Arizona, the largest of many big ones being built by the government, which contains only 350,000 cubic yards.

The Stanley dam, as the new structure will be known, will impound 5,000,000,000 cubic feet of water, a capacity sufficient for the regular irrigation of more than 100,000 acres of land. The flow of five rivers on the eastern slope of the Rockies will be confined in the great reservoir which the dam will form.

The dam and auxiliary systems, thus far projected for collecting and distributing the water, will cost upward of $4,000,000, and although the project constitutes the greatest irrigation development yet advanced by private enterprise in this country. —Exchange.

Card of thanks.

I want to publicly express my thanks and gratitude to the good people of Salem for their never ceasing kindness to me while on a bed of affliction, from the very first of my illness. They began coming with sweet smiling faces, bringing flowers, fruits, soups, ices, cakes and etc, in fact every thing one can imagine, nor did they stop or abate in the least for six long weary months. May Heaven's richest blessings rest upon you all.

MRS. M. E. BARNES.

Mining Notes.

The Albany Mining & Investment Co., which has just completed a fine mill here, now has over 100 tons of fine spar on the floor ready for shipment. This company recently put in a 100-horse power boiler and a 75-horse power engine, a Griffin spar grinding mill. W. L. Vera, the general manager, has his headquarters at Salem. The mill, which is located near the depot, is one of the best in the district. It is well worth a visit of inspection to any one interested in mining.

The Edwards Mining Co. will sink its shaft to a depth of 200 feet. It is now down 75 feet and the remaining 125 feet will be sunk as rapidly as possible. This company recently completed a fine lake, covering several acres, the water to supply the washers and run the other machinery at the mines near Crittenden Springs and is also preparing to add new engines and boilers.

Phillips-James.

Wednesday evening June 26, 1907 Mr. Reed Phillips and Miss Ada James, the attractive young daughter of Dr. H. A. James, were married at the home of Elder W. F. Paris where they had repaired to have the ceremony said by that eminent divine.

The groom is a son of the late Hice Phillips, a grandson of Piney Frank Wilson, and is a brother of Miss Iva Phillips, of this city.

The bride is also highly connected being related to many of the county's best people. The best wishes of many friends go with them in their married life.

Finger Cut Off.

Rudell, the little three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Dixie Franklin, met with a serious accident last Friday afternoon. While playing with a lawn mower at the home of A. H. Travis her little finger was cut off. Dr. Dixon was called and sewed the finger back to its place, although he had little hope of saving it.

Wednesday morning when the wound was examined, it was found necessary to amputate the finger at the knuckle joint, and this was successfully done, and the little sufferer is getting along alright.

Infant of Rev. and Mrs. Conway Dead.

Russell Dixon, infant son of Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Conway, died Monday evening at 7:35 o'clock, after an illness of only a week, aged five months and one day. The interment took place Tuesday afternoon at the new cemetery, Rev. J. H. Butler, officiating.

Lectured at the Auditorium.

Mrs. E. J. Sheeks lectured Tuesday night to a small audience at the school auditorium. On account of the Sunday School Convention which drew large crowds from the city, Mrs. Sheeks' engagement was not generally known and hence her small audience.

Wednesday she visited W. A. Deboe, her brother, at Blackford.

Mrs. Sheeks will lecture at Crayneville next Sunday and as she is well known there and a fluent talker she will no doubt have a good crowd out to hear her.
